

The Hale Herald

20 November 2020

This week the children at Hale CE Primary School continue to make great strides with their learning, and we have been impressed by their continued excellent attitudes. It is a pleasure in the mornings to see the children coming into school so eager to learn.

We are busy making very exciting plans for Christmas and we want this to be as special an experience as possible for our school community and particularly the children. We will be sharing these with you in greater detail with important dates in due course.

As the temperature starts to drop, please can you ensure that your child/ren have suitable warm coats and if necessary a hat and scarf. I can tell you from experience that it was bitterly cold on the playground today.

Books for School - We are in need of additional children's reading books (fiction and non-fiction) to expand our class libraries. Before we purchase any, we are hoping that parents may have books that your child no longer reads, are in good condition and will be of use here at school. Any donations will be gratefully received.

Healthy Eating - Please can we remind all families that we only encourage healthy snacks at break times. Please can you also reinforce the need to make healthy food choices at home with your child/ren.

Just a reminder that all adults on the school grounds are expected to wear a face covering. It is appreciated if ALL adults comply with this request.

Take care of yourself and each other.

Best Wishes.

Adviser (Halton Borough Council)
